

MR. PRESIDENT,
WE ARE

Not A NATION
OF BELIEVERS

FFRF is suing Trump over his executive order signaling that tax-exempt churches are now free to politick from the pulpit.

WE ARE ONE NATION UNDER A GODLESS CONSTITUTION.
"WE THE PEOPLE" ARE FREE TO BELIEVE OR DISBELIEVE.

In his pandering commencement address to graduates at Jerry Falwell's Liberty University, President Trump proclaimed, "America is a nation of true believers."

Such exclusionary remarks denigrate the quarter of the U.S. population today that is nonreligious — "true nonbelievers." The United States is not a theocracy and there is no religious test for citizenship. It's never been more crucial for those of us who dissent from religion to stand up for the constitutional principle of separation between state and church.

This week Trump unveiled an education budget that spells disaster for our secular public schools, diverting tax money toward vouchers benefiting religious schools. Download FFRF's free brochure, "The Case Against Vouchers": ffrf.org/caseagainstvouchers
