

From: McDaniel, Sean
To: Steve Green \(steve.green@hobbylobby.com\)
Subject: Channel 5
Date: Tuesday, November 19, 2013 3:54:00 PM

Steve,

Just wanted to keep you in the loop. Seems that a few media outlets are interested in the possibility of Mustang adopting the Bible in the Curriculum. Today I sat down with Channel 5 (off camera) to answer their questions. They were interested in the adoption process and they asked whether I contacted you about this or you contacted me. I told them that I really couldn't remember but I believed I had contacted you initially about the curriculum and I know I invited you to the Board meeting to provide our Board with some preliminary information for them to consider and that you graciously accepted my invitation. I also provided them with the page and a half synopsis of the course. I explained to them that this was simply a step in the process of adding any course to our curriculum and that it was premature to make any further comments about the "what-if's." Here is a breakdown of our process as an FYI.

1. District shows interest in adding a course and gathers information
2. District Curriculum Committee reviews information and makes a recommendation about a possible course addition
3. Board of Education receives recommendation and has the opportunity to review course description, text, and materials
4. Board takes action to adopt or not adopt a new course to be added to district offerings
5. Student pre-enrollment occurs
6. Pre-enrollment data along with instructor availability dictates whether or not to offer a course and how many sections to offer

We remain excited about the possibilities! Let me know if you need anything and feel free to call anytime.

Sean