Re: Unconstitutional baccalaureate promotion

Dear Dr. Knowlton:

I am writing on behalf of the Freedom From Religion Foundation (FFRF) regarding an unconstitutional baccalaureate ceremony at Community ISD. FFRF is a national nonprofit organization with more than 40,000 members across the country, including over 1,700 members and a chapter in Texas. Our purposes are to protect the constitutional principle of separation between state and church, and to educate the public on matters relating to nontheism.

A concerned community member informs us that Community ISD hosted and promoted a baccalaureate service on Sunday, May 19, 2024. The District held the event at Community High School's auditorium. According to its own advertisements, pastors delivered sermons to students at the District venue. District staff escorted students inside. Opening prayer, worship, sermons, and a closing prayer were delivered by local church clergy. The District advertised the event via Facebook¹ and asked "seniors, please bring your full regalia." The District's invite reads "you are invited to celebrate through praise and worship the graduating class of 2024." The District published pictures of the service on the same day.² Please see the enclosed screenshots.

Public schools may not host—and then promote—religious ceremonies. That includes baccalaureate services. We ask the District to refrain from hosting any future baccalaureate services.

It is well-settled law that public schools may not show favoritism toward nor coerce belief or participation in religion. See generally Santa Fe Indep. Sch. Dist. v. Doe, 530 U.S. 290 (2000); Lee v. Weisman, 505 U.S. 577 (1992); Wallace v. Jaffree, 472 U.S. 38 (1985); Epperson v. Arkansas, 393 U.S. 97 (1967); Sch. Dist. of Abington Twp. v. Schempp, 374 U.S.

203 (1963); Engel v. Vitale, 370 U.S. 421 (1962); McCollum v. Bd. of Educ., 333 U.S. 203 (1948).

Baccalaureate programs are religious services with prayer and worship. Schools may not plan, design, or host baccalaureate programs. See, e.g., Warnock v. Archer, 443 F.3d 954 (8th Cir. 2006) (upholding injunction prohibiting school district from orchestrating or supervising prayers at school graduation or baccalaureate ceremonies). By hosting and promoting a baccalaureate ceremony, the District demonstrates clear favoritism toward religion over nonreligion, and Christianity above all other faiths. That favoritism enlarges when a District employee organizes and hosts the service. It is also telling that the service is held on a Sunday, the Christian Sabbath. This was a church service; and the District hosted it.

Courts have permitted privately sponsored baccalaureate services; but those Districts took significant steps to ensure there was no appearance of school sponsorship. See Randall v. Pagan, 765 F. Supp. 793 (W.D.N.Y. 1991) (“the school board has already formally and publicly dissociated itself from the baccalaureate service, has canceled its prior order for programs and has refused to lend any financial support, either direct or indirect, to assist the [religious group] in its sponsorship of the event...[no] district personnel are involved in any aspect of the service, either in their capacities as District employees or . . . in their personal, individual capacities.”); Verbena Methodist Church v. Chilton Bd. of Educ., 765 F. Supp. 704 (M.D. Ala. 1991) (“The Board must also ensure that no other school officials promote, lead, or participate in the service.”). CCSD did the opposite. The District not only failed to take any steps to disassociate itself from this baccalaureate ceremony, but had its own employees host the service on its property. The May 19 service is just that, a religious service. And for all intents and purposes, the baccalaureate was a District event.

“Voluntariness” is no defense for the District. See generally Lee, 505 U.S. at 596 (“the State cannot require one of its citizens to forfeit his or her rights and benefits as the price of resisting conformance to state-sponsored religious practice.”); Schempp, 374 U.S. at 288 (Brennan, J., concurring) (“... the availability of excusal or exemption simply has no relevance to the establishment question”); Mellen v. Bunting, 327 F.3d 355, 372 (4th Cir. 2003) (“VMI cannot avoid Establishment Clause problems by simply asserting that a cadet’s attendance at supper or his or her participation in the supper prayer are ‘voluntary.’”); Jager v. Douglas Cnty. Sch. Dist., 862 F.2d 825, 832 (11th Cir. 1989) (“... whether the complaining individual’s presence was voluntary is not relevant to the Establishment Clause analysis . . . The Establishment Clause focuses on the constitutionality of the state action, not on the choices made by the complaining individual.”). Here, the District promotes and prefers a Christian ceremony that only Christian graduates would feel comfortable attending. This sends an impermissible message to non-Christian graduates that they are not the District’s favored students. The District cannot circumvent the Establishment Clause problem by pointing to the attendees’ voluntary attendance.

CHS promoted, sponsored, and spent money for a religious ceremony on its property. It then shared this sponsorship with the broader District community by advertising the event details via social media. The District has a constitutional duty to remain neutral toward religion. By hosting and promoting the baccalaureate service, the District abdicates that duty—needlessly alienating the forty-nine percent of Generation Z who are religiously unaffiliated.³

The District must respect the constitutional rights of all its students to be free from religious coercion and indoctrination in their public schools, and so it must cease sponsoring or promoting baccalaureate ceremonies. Please inform us in writing of the steps the District is taking to ensure this constitutional violation is addressed and does not recur.

Sincerely,
